About Panjab University

The glorious traditions of Panjab University, since its inception in 1882 at Lahore, are a source of inspiration for the present generation of faculty members and students. The present campus at Chandigarh and about two hundred colleges make it unique. By virtue of its age, experience, achievements and philosophy, Panjab University is a university of national character and International stature, with faculty and students drawn from all over the country and abroad. With two Nobel Prize winners, Dr. Hargobind Khurana (Physiology) and Dr. Abdus Salam (Physics), and countless researchers, the University has been ranked as the Number One University in India by the Times Higher Education's (THE) World University Rankings list(2013-14).

The Department of Psychology

The Department of Psychology was originally started at Lahore in 1929. With the starting of the University at Chandigarh, the department was re-established in 1959. Since its inception at the Chandigarh campus, the faculty of the department has contributed immensely to the field of psychology. The department of psychology has a multidimensional image in terms of excellent research and teaching and has been a leader in the region. The faculty has attained international recognition and the alumni have excelled as professionals in different parts of the world. The balance between pure and applied research has given the department a rare profile. Major areas of research are clinical psychology, personality, guidance and counselling, sport psychology, organizational behavior, mental training, cognition, media psychology, positive psychology and health psychology.

The Department offers teaching and research programs for M.A., Post MA Diplomas, M. Phil. and Ph.D. levels. It had the stalwarts like Professor S. S. Jalota, Dr. Mukul K. Dey and Professor S. D. Singh to establish its International recognition and national profile. This tradition is carried on by Professor Jitendra Mohan.
